Typical April Weather Due For Few Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Typical April weather is ahead of Ohio the next few days. The Weatherman is expecting showers and warm mercury readings. Here is his forecast for Ohio for the next five days:

"Temperatures will average 5 to 7 degrees above normal; normal high 61 north to 67 south; normal low 40-44. Warmer Tuesday and Wednesday, cooler Thursday and Friday, and warmer again Saturday. Showers likely Tuesday and Wednesday and again Friday or Saturday. Rainfall will average about one inch."

Meanwhile, storm clouds hovered over hard hit areas in the Southern Plains after weekend of violent weather in Texas.

Wet weather was indicated for many other parts of the country.

The heavy rainfall over the weekend in Texas sent many rivers to near flood stage with warnings of overflows in low lands south of Dallas.

Eleven tornadoes skipped across the Lone Star State Sunday night, 10 of them striking in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains. An estimated 14 persons were injured and one man was reported missing. Property damage was reported everywhere.

Heavy rainfall was reported in many parts of Texas, adding to the general copious falls in the last two months. The downpours prompted state officials to express cautious optimism that the drought in its seventh year, appeared broken in all except the western and extreme southern sections.

Jerry Lewis Not Funny in This Act

PACIFIC PALISADES, Calif. (AP)—There was nothing funny about a scene comedian Jerry Lewis played with a prowler at his home Saturday night.

Lewis told police that a man rang his back door bell, handed him an unintelligible note, then went to the front door and tried to enter. Lewis pressed a silent burglar alarm, alerting police, and took a pistol with him to the front door. The man fled.

Lewis said he saw the man hiding behind a parked car, so he held him at gunpoint until police arrived. Officers booked George W. Sheffield, 25, Los Angeles, on suspicion of burglary.

Dulles to Reds: Liberation of Captive Nations Is U. S. Aim

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles bluntly told Russia today that the United States seeks "the liberation of the captive nations." He said "the pressures of liberty are rising" within the Soviet bloc.

In an address for the annual Associated Press luncheon, Dulles also appealed to the American people to preserve the administration's foreign military and economic aid programs against those with "a zeal to economize." He evidently referred to some members of Congress.

Dulles' address had the full advance approval of President Eisenhower, who read it at his Augusta, Ga., vacation spot.

The address was Dulles' first major review of U. S. foreign policy since last fall, and also his first speech of Eisenhower's second term.

Dulles said the question of how the United States should deal with communist "despotism" is not easy one to answer. He declared the United States had set an example to stimulate forces for freedom throughout the world and he assured Soviet satellite countries that "we shall never make a political settlement at their expense."

HE RULED OUT action by the United States to "incite violent revolt" and called instead for measures to "encourage an evolution to freedom."

"Let us also make apparent to the Soviet rulers our real purpose. We condemn and oppose their imperialism. We seek the liberation of the captive nations," he said of Russia.

"We seek this, however, not in order to encircle Russia with hostile forces, but because peace is in jeopardy and freedom a word of mockery until the divided nations are reunited and the captive nations are set free."

In describing the "pressures of liberty" which he said are rising within the Soviet bloc, Dulles said there is increasing demand for greater personal security, freedom and economic benefits within Russia.

He said that international communism is beset with "doctrinal difficulties" and that the "crucial performance of Soviet communism in Hungary" had led many Communist party members throughout the world to desert communism.

Dulles also made these other major points:

1. International communism "is on the prowl to capture those nations whose leaders feel that newly acquired sovereign rights have to be displayed by flouting other independent nations." He called that "suicidal sovereignty" and said the United States wants the independence of new nations "to be something better than a brief twilight preceding the blackout of Communist despotism."

DULLES DID NOT mention any country in this connection but he is known to feel that in its handling of the Suez Canal issue, Egypt has disregarded the rights of other countries which rely on the use of the canal.

2. The chief deterrent to Soviet aggression is the "mobile retaliatory power" of the United States but this country also needs strong allies. This is the main argument for military aid. If the "forces and facilities" of allied nations were taken away from the common defense the American defense budget would have to be "expanded vastly," he said.

3. The administration's policies governing promotion of international trade and economic assistance to foreign countries are vital to strengthen those countries against Communist pressures and to secure their belief in "the blessings of liberty."

4. The United States considers "that controls and reduction of arms are possible, desirable, and in the last reckoning, indispensable" the atomic arms race "is costly, sterile and dangerous" and "we shall not cease our striving to bring it to a dependable end."

5. History suggests that "a conflict as basic as that dividing the world of freedom and the world of international communism ultimately erupts in war" but the United States rejects the notion that war is inevitable and believes that it can be prevented.

Humphrey To Stay

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey is said to have no plans to resign from the Cabinet. And at age 67 he has decided to take up President Eisenhower's favorite game, golf.

Nothing Saved but Television Set

TWO CHIMNEYS and a pile of charred rubble are all that is left of the six-room frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Glendal Workman, their five children and two of her children by a previous marriage, which was leveled by fire Easter morning on Route 70 north. A coal oil stove had exploded. The family escaped uninjured but none of the furnishings were saved except a television set. (Record-Herald photo)

A kerosene stove explosion apparently caused a $5,000 fire on Route 70 about a mile north of Washington C. H. Easter morning which leveled the six-room bungalow occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Glendal Workman and seven children.

Though the occupants escaped uninjured, all the furnishings were lost except a television set, which Mr. Workman carried out as he fled.

It was the third major fire in the county in nine days.

Two trucks from the Washington C. H. Fire department and a tank from the Fayette County engineer's office worked from 11:55 a. m. to 3:15 p. m. to extinguish the blaze, which completely destroyed the home.

MRS. WORKMAN told firemen she was preparing dinner in the kitchen and stepped into the living room for a moment when the fire started.

"I went back and the whole stove was aflame," she recalled. She and her husband worked to extinguish the blaze, but it quickly spread to the ceiling.

"We called the fire department and got out," she said Monday.

In the house at the time were the Workmans' five children: Raymond, 8, Johnny, 7, Mary Lou, 5, Danny, 4, and Eddie, 3.

Mrs. Workman's son Bob, 11, by a previous marriage was also there.

The latter, who normally lives with his father, Robert Minnix, in Chillicothe, lost most of his clothing in the fire. He was visiting with his mother over the Easter holidays.

Another son of Mrs. Workman's, Paul, 14, who makes his home with his mother, was away at work at the time.

FIRE CAPT. Charles Cronk and Fireman Robert West answered the first call for the Washington C. H. department, using the tank-pumper. Fireman William Smith came out shortly after with the tanker.

Volunteers who helped fight the blaze were Joe Gray, Harold Sprague, Russ Whited, Dave

One man was injured near the William Dunn farm, about eight miles south of Washington on Route 35, at 2 p. m. Saturday when the auto he was driving left the road, split a telephone pole and smashed into a tree.

In "good" condition at Fayette Memorial Hospital Monday morning was Carl Norman LeMaster, 24, of Springfield, who escaped with head lacerations as his auto was demolished.

LeMaster told Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson he was going south around a curve when he swerved to avoid hitting a boy on a bicycle. The auto traveled about 100 feet from the point where it left the road to where it stopped against a tree.

Thompson said LeMaster had been drinking. The speedometer on his auto stuck at 48 miles an hour after the car came to a halt. The boy on a bicycle was not found.

The LeMaster accident was the only serious mishap reported as Easter holiday traffic packed highways in both the city and county. Among the minor accidents:

G. R. MOORE, 40, of Meriden, Conn., forfeited $15 bond in Municipal Court Monday as a result of a charge of failure to yield the right of way growing out of an accident at the junction of Court St. and Washington Ave. at 4:22 p. m.

Typical April Weather Due For Few Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Typical April weather is ahead of Ohio the next few days. The Weatherman is expecting showers and warm mercury readings. Here is his forecast for Ohio for the next five days:

"Temperatures will average 5 to 7 degrees above normal; normal high 61 north to 67 south; normal low 40-44. Warmer Tuesday and Wednesday, cooler Thursday and Friday, and warmer again Saturday. Showers likely Tuesday and Wednesday and again Friday or Saturday. Rainfall will average about one inch."

Meanwhile, storm clouds hovered over hard hit areas in the Southern Plains after weekend of violent weather in Texas.

Wet weather was indicated for many other parts of the country.

The heavy rainfall over the weekend in Texas sent many rivers to near flood stage with warnings of overflows in low lands south of Dallas.

Eleven tornadoes skipped across the Lone Star State Sunday night, 10 of them striking in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains. An estimated 14 persons were injured and one man was reported missing. Property damage was reported about one inch.

Heavy rainfall was reported in many parts of Texas, adding to the general copious falls in the last two months. The downpours prompted state officials to express cautious optimism that the drought in its seventh year, appeared broken in all except the western and extreme southern sections.

120 Below Zero Is Expected

Navy Men All Braced For South Pole Winter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first men to spend the winter at the South Pole expect the thermometer to drop to 120 below zero at midseason, the Navy said today.

This would be 30 degrees colder than anyone else has ever experienced, weather experts say.

The world record for cold in which men have lived is 90 below, recorded in northeastern Siberia in February 1933. The 18 Americans at the South Pole came within a degree of that mark April 2, when they reported a low of minus 89.

Winter comes in the Antarctic when summer comes in the Northern Hemisphere.

Altogether, 338 U. S. scientists and military men are spending the polar winter at seven Operation Deep Freeze outposts, scattered over distances of hundreds of miles.

A SAMPLING of the reports they have sent back:

Little America—Lt. (j.g.) Robert J. Adams, Memphis, reported that an attempt to hatch chicks for Easter had failed. Candling of six New Zealand eggs selected for incubation showed "no growth."

Byrd Station—Scientists were "astonished" to discover that ice in the area extended to a depth of 7,800 to 9,750 feet. They believe that all this ice rests on land.

Ellsworth Station—Navy cook Edward H. Davis, Clinton, Iowa, said the men are eating 1 1/2 times their normal amount of food, mostly proteins, consumption of which is at twice the rate for a corresponding stateside base.

Storm Alert Is Sounded

COLUMBUS (AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau here today sounded an alert for "intense" thunderstorms and possible tornadoes in the northwestern section of Ohio.

The storms may come between 1 p. m. and 9 p. m. today.

The bureau said the storms were possible 50 miles either side of a line extending from Champaign, Ill., to Findlay, Lima, Wapakoneta, Van Wert and Indian Lake are possible storm targets.

Teenage Extortion Gang Is Captured

NEW YORK (AP)—A Brooklyn boy looted his father's Brighton grocery of nearly $6,000 in a year to pay off a teenage gang.

The boy, Raymond Quinones, 15, of Brooklyn overcame his fear of reprisal and pleaded to police for help Saturday.

Police set a trap in the store. They gave Raymond marked $10 bills and watched from behind a counter while he handed the money over to one of the gang.

That led to the arrest of the alleged leader of the extortion racket, John J. Febbia, 18, and three younger boys. A year ago, they had told Raymond:

"If you don't give us money we will kill your mother or sister."

HE RULED OUT action by the United States to "incite violent revolt" and called instead for measures to "encourage an evolution to freedom."

"Let us also make apparent to the Soviet rulers our real purpose. We condemn and oppose their imperialism. We seek the liberation of the captive nations," he said of Russia.

"We seek this, however, not in order to encircle Russia with hostile forces, but because peace is in jeopardy and freedom a word of mockery until the divided nations are reunited and the captive nations are set free."

In describing the "pressures of liberty" which he said are rising within the Soviet bloc, Dulles said there is increasing demand for greater personal security, freedom and economic benefits within Russia.

He said that international communism is beset with "doctrinal difficulties" and that the "crucial performance of Soviet communism in Hungary" had led many Communist party members throughout the world to desert communism.

Dulles also made these other major points:

1. International communism "is on the prowl to capture those nations whose leaders feel that newly acquired sovereign rights have to be displayed by flouting other independent nations." He called that "suicidal sovereignty" and said the United States wants the independence of new nations "to be something better than a brief twilight preceding the blackout of Communist despotism."

DULLES DID NOT mention any country in this connection but he is known to feel that in its handling of the Suez Canal issue, Egypt has disregarded the rights of other countries which rely on the use of the canal.

2. The chief deterrent to Soviet aggression is the "mobile retaliatory power" of the United States but this country also needs strong allies. This is the main argument for military aid. If the "forces and facilities" of allied nations were taken away from the common defense, the American defense budget would have to be "expanded vastly," he said.

3. The administration's policy governing promotion of international trade and economic assistance to foreign countries are vital to strengthen those countries against Communist pressures and to secure their belief in "the blessings of liberty."

4. The United States considers "that controls and reduction of arms are possible, desirable, and, in the last reckoning, indispensable," the atomic arms race "is costly, sterile and dangerous" and "we shall not cease our striving to bring it to a dependable end."

5. History suggest that "a conflict as basic as that dividing the world of freedom and the world of international communism ultimately erupts in war" but the United States rejects the notion that war is inevitable and believes that it can be prevented.

Humphrey To Stay

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey is said to have no plans to resign from the Cabinet. And at age 67 he has decided to take up President Eisenhower's favorite game, golf.

Nothing Saved but Television Set

TWO CHIMNEYS and a pile of charred rubble are all that is left of the six-room frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Glendal Workman, their five children and two of her children by a previous marriage, which was leveled by fire Easter morning on Route 70 north. A coal oil stove had exploded. The family escaped uninjured but none of the furnishings were saved except a television set. (Record-Herald photo)

A kerosene stove explosion apparently caused a $5,000 fire on Route 70 about a mile north of Washington C. H. Easter morning which leveled the six-room bungalow occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Glendal Workman and seven children.

Though the occupants escaped uninjured, all the furnishings were lost except a television set, which Mr. Workman carried out as he fled.

It was the third major fire in the county in nine days.

Two trucks from the Washington C. H. Fire department and a tanker from the Fayette County engineer's office worked from 11:35 a. m. to 3:15 p. m. to extinguish the blaze, which completely destroyed the home.

MRS. WORKMAN told firemen she was preparing dinner in the kitchen and stepped into the living room for a moment when the fire started.

"I went back and the whole stove was aflame," she recalled. She and her husband worked to extinguish the blaze, but it quickly spread to the ceiling.

"We called the fire department and got out," she said Monday.

In the house at the time were the Workman's five children, Raymond, 8, Johnny, 7, Mary Lou, 5, Danny, 4, and Eddie, 3. Mrs. Workman's son Bob, 11, by a previous marriage was also there.

The latter, who normally lives with his father, Robert Minnix, in Chillicothe, lost most of his clothing in the fire. He was visiting with his mother over the Easter holidays.

Another son of Mrs. Workman's, Paul, 14, who makes his home with his mother, was away at work at the time.

FIRE CAPT. Charles Cronan and Fireman Robert West answered the first call for the Washington C. H. department, using the tank-pumper. Fireman William Smith came out shortly after with the tanker.

Volunteers who helped fight the blaze were Joe Gray, Harold Sprague, Russ Whited, Dave (Please turn to page two)

U. S.-Soviet Arms Accord Possible

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower will confer here Tuesday with Harold E. Stassen amid fresh indications the United States now sees some chance for agreement with Russia on a first step toward disarmament.

Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, is scheduled to arrive by plane from Washington tonight. After talks with the vacationing President at the Augusta National Golf Club, he will return to London for resumption of disarmament negotiations by a U. N. subcommittee.

Recess of the negotiations for the Easter weekend brought Stassen to Washington Saturday for an interim report to Secretary of State Dulles and other administration officials. After that meeting the government put out a statement calling for a continued "serious effort to reach an initial partial agreement for a first step" toward disarmament with safeguards for inspection and control.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Dulles had recommended that Stassen make a personal report to the President. That decision appears significant for two reasons.

IN THE FIRST place, Dulles and Stassen obviously believe the status of the London negotiations warrants Eisenhower's personal attention.

News in Brief

Mayflower II Heads for U. S.

ST. KEVERNE, England (AP)—Mayflower II, a replica of the Pilgrim fathers' ship, sailed out of sight of the English coast today as she headed for the U. S.

Soon after dawn, the little wooden sailing vessel was spotted by the coast guard 15 miles out from The Lizard, southernmost point of England's coast. Half an hour later she was out of sight.

The ship left Plymouth, England, Saturday, bound for Plymouth, Mass. For more than 24 hours she dawdled in the English Channel with hardly a breath of wind to fill her sails.

Skipper Alan Villiers, Australian seafarer, hopes to land the ship in Plymouth in about six weeks. He has said it all depends on weather conditions in the Atlantic. He has a crew of 32.

The original Mayflower took 66 days to reach Plymouth Rock because it sailed from England in September, about the worst month for a westerly passage under sail. The Mayflower II has chosen the time of year when there is the highest proportion of east-to-west winds in the North Atlantic.

TEL AVIV (AP)—Israeli military headquarters reported today a three-hour gun fight between Israeli and Jordanian troops on the central frontier. An army spokesman said the Jordanians opened fire with machineguns and rifles on an Israeli patrol. He said the Israelis returned fire and the fight was broken off after three hours with no Israeli casualties.

Father Richard J. Connelly Named National Elks Chaplain

The Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church here, has been appointed grand national chaplain of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

His appointment has just been announced by Fred Bohn, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, from lodge headquarters in Chicago.

He will succeed the Most Reverend Robert Brown, Episcopal bishop of Roanoke, Va.

In this unprecedented move, Father Connelly will become grand chaplain of the order for the fourth time. His other terms were in 1932-1933, 1953, 1954 and 1954-1955. He is now serving his sixth term as state chaplain of the Elks.

Father Connelly also is state chaplain of Catholic War Veterans and is a past chaplain of the Ohio Department of the American Legion and its Forty and Eight.

As grand chaplain of the Elks, Father Connelly will speak in the interest of Elksdom at meetings and conventions all over the country. He also will open and close all sessions of the national Elks convention in San Francisco in July.

Chaplain, he will be the spiritual advisor of 1,300,000 Elks in the United States, the Philippines, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Canal Zone and Hawaii.

Father Connelly is a life member of the Elks Lodge in Lancaster, where he was located for seven years before coming to Washington C. H. as pastor of St. Colman's Church in 1952.

Israel, Syria Deny Reports

Egypt Radio Tells Of Growing Tension

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Cairo radio and news agencies spread a report today that Iraqi troops had moved into Jordan, taking up threatening positions near Syrian forces encamped in the desert kingdom. The report was discounted in Syria and Israel.

The Egyptian Middle East news agency said Iraq troops camped near El Mafraq in northern Jordan, and that Syrian President Shukri Kuwaty had asked King Hussein of Jordan to try to avoid a clash between Iraqis and Syrians.

A reliable source in Damascus said King Hussein, in a telephone talk with Kuwaty, declared there was no truth in the report.

An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman in Jerusalem also said the report should be received with skepticism. The spokesman said the Cairo radio had broadcast a report only in Hebrew, apparently for its effect on Israel, that an entire Iraqi tank division had rolled into Jordan. The spokesman said such a troop movement would cause "grave concern" in Israel.

ISRAELI intelligence sources in Tel Aviv reported, however, that 2,000 Iraqi troops had moved up to Jordan's border, presumably to assist King Hussein in keeping his throne, if need be. These sources added that another 1,000 Syrians had crossed into Jordan, reinforcing the 3,000 already near Mafraq. Syrian troops have been in north Jordan since the invasion of Egypt last fall. Saudi Arabian troops are in south Jordan.

During Jordan's recent political crisis, when Hussein dismissed the government of Premier Suleiman Nabulsi, along with the Communist and leftist elements, there were fears in the Middle East that the monarchy might collapse and that Jordan's neighbors might rush in to dismember the country.

Nabulsi, foreign minister in the new government, charged Sunday night that "certain foreign diplomatic missions" had interfered in Jordan's affairs. He did not name the mission but his remarks followed demands by some Jordan leftists that the U. S. ambassador be expelled from the country.

Two former chiefs of Jordan's army, now in exile in Syria, also charged foreign interference in the little country, and one of them named the United States.

Gen. Ali Nuwar, former Jordan chief of staff whose resignation was accepted by King Hussein during the crisis because of Nuwar's strong pro-Egyptian views, was quoted by a Damascus newspaper as saying Lt. Col. James L. Sweeney, U. S. military attaché in Amman, had put "strong pressure on me to form a military government in Jordan under my leadership provided I accept the Eisenhower doctrine. I advised him not to cause a massacre in the country out of which they (the Americans) will emerge the losers."

HE ASSAILED the present Jordan government, and said it was practicing "sheer deceit aimed at paving the way for American colonialism to complete its plots against the liberal Arab movement."

Meanwhile, Nabulsi reiterated Jordan's intentions to establish diplomatic relations with Russia.

Nabulsi, who resigned as prime minister 12 days ago at the demand of King Hussein, insisted that the policy of the new government under Premier Hussein Khayr (Please turn to page two)

Comet To Appear In Evening Sky

NEW YORK (AP)—The Arend-Roland comet may be visible low in the northwestern sky for a week beginning tonight.

The Hayden Planetarium said the comet may be seen tonight near the horizon about an hour and a half after sunset, and should be visible for about half an hour.

Each succeeding evening it will be higher, and be about as bright as the faintest of the seven stars in the Big Dipper. It may or may not have a tail. Astronomers said that "to people who like to look at the sky with binoculars, it may be a disappointment."

2 Drunk Drivers Fined in Court

Six Others Face Traffic Charges

Two men were fined for driving while intoxicated, six others for other traffic offenses and three for intoxication by Judge Max G. Dice in a busy Monday morning at Municipal Court.

One man was also found not guilty of leaving the scene of an accident.

Pleading guilty to driving while intoxicated were Theodore Bartuff, 41, of near Washington C. H., and Don Arthur Matson, 22, of 414 Earl Ave. Both were fined $200 and costs, had their driving rights suspended for one year and were sentenced to 10 days in jail, seven suspended.

Found not guilty of leaving the scene of an accident was Wayne Bott, 20, of Mt. Sterling, originally arrested on a warrant sworn out by Harold Blanton, 23, of near New Holland. Warrants sworn out by Blanton against Bott for assault and for reckless driving were withdrawn.

The warrants grew out of an auto accident in the northern part of the county last week.

FINED $50 and costs and sentenced to two days in jail after he pleaded guilty to driving after his license had been revoked was Rome N. Poole, 23, of near Greenfield. His father, Joseph Poole, 50, also of near Greenfield, forfeited $25 bond on a charge of permitting an unlicensed driver to drive.

Pleading guilty to charges of failure to stop at a red light were Mabelle D. Allen, 47, of Bloomingburg, N. Y., and Nelson Eugene Whaley, 20, of near Washington C. H. Both were fined $5 and costs, the fines suspended.

Charles McKinney, 26, of Washington C. H., was fined $5 and costs after he pleaded guilty to driving without an operator's license.

Pleading guilty to crossing a yellow line was McKay Burton, 33, of Columbus. He was fined $10 and costs, the fine suspended.

Forfeiting bond for failure to appear on various charges were: George R. Moore, 40, of Meridian, Conn., failure to yield the right of way, $15;

Ralph Eugene Cull, 24, of 214 N. Main St., failure to stop at a red light, $15.

He seemed surprised that anyone should think it strange the government still planned to exchange diplomats with Moscow. It had been generally believed Nabulsi's approach to the Soviet Union were one of the reasons for his dismissal.

Both Nabulsi and Premier Khalidi said the Jordan government had invited President Eisenhower's special envoy James P. Richardson.

Founder's Day Observed

Scout Camp Improved And Park Building Put Up by Armco Employees

The Boys Scouts here now have two outdoor fireplaces, two picnic tables and two outdoor toilets at their own Camp Glenn M. Pine on the Flakes Ford Rd. and there is a new Steelox building at the park on Oakland and Millikan Aves. here for storage of equipment—all by employees of the Armco Steel Corp. all over the world observe April 22 each year as Founder's Day with good deeds for others.

This year's two projects were started more than two weeks ago, but because of interference by the weather the finishing touches were not put on until Founder's Day.

The Camp Pine project, which took more money and more hard work, involved not only the construction of the fireplaces, picnic tables and toilets, but also the clean-up of the 27-acre tract between the road and Sugar Creek. Underbrush had to be grubbed out, dead trees cut and some trees topped. An old fence was torn out and the winter's accumulation of fallen branches and dead weeds was piled up and burned.

It took long hours of back-tiring labor, but now the scouts have a neat and clean place to go for their outdoor meetings and camps—all they have to do now is keep it that way.

The city bought the Steelox building—which was made at the Armco Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., plant here—and volunteers from the plant put it up at the park during their Good Friday holiday before and after the union service at the First Presbyterian Church.

This unusual observance of Founder's Day is carried on by Armco employees on their own time, with their own money and under the direction of their own selected fellow workers.

ALL OF the 230 employees of the Armco plant here took part in the projects, either with contributions of money or work—usually with both.

They also sent a check to one of their fellow workers who has been off the job for six months and probably will not be back for another six because of injuries received in a non-occupational accident.

Committee for this year's observance was made up of Harold Fortaker, Frank Terrell, Cecil Culp, John Stewart, Robert Ernest, Eugene Brill, Mrs. Lauretta Vincent and Paul Souther, the chairman.

Contributions by employees for the expenses and the check amounted to $458.

The work this year was carried out in shifts. There were times when as many as 30 were working at Camp Pine.

IN THE seven years Founder's Day has been observed by Armco employees here:

In 1951 a commercial-type toaster was given to the Children's Home.

In 1952 new linoleum was bought and laid, lockers were built in, and some painting was done at the Children's Home before a party was given for the youngsters there.

In 1953 a stainless drainboard

ards last February to come to Amman to explain the Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East.

Nabulsi said no further invitation was necessary. American officials, however, have taken the line that a definite bid has not been extended and Richards still is awaiting a proper invitation.

Nabulsi said Jordan would reject any conditions attached to any U. S. aid, whether under the Eisenhower Doctrine or otherwise. As to Eisenhower's suggestion that the Arabs band together to resist Communist encroachment, the foreign minister said:

"We are against communism because it is against Arab nationalism. If I fight communism, I do so for the sake of Arabs, not for the sake of the United States or any other country."

was purchased, drapes were hung, the dining room painted, the walls and floors of the TV and play room painted and a party given at the Children's Home.

In 1954 a fellow employee was helped and a party given at the Children's Home.

In 1955 an employee was helped and pillows and pillow slips were given to the Children's Home.

In 1956 picnic tables were put at the Children's Home, sweaters given to the children and another party held.

This year the Boy Scout camp and park were improved.

This is the 14th year Armco employees have observed the birthday of George M. Verity, founder of Armco, in this unusual way. It follows the pattern of the life of Verity, who earned a reputation because of his personal philanthropies.

Following his death in 1942, Armco employees decided to carry on the spirit of his life with helpful projects.

Reports of Founder's Day deeds by Armco's 35,000 employees in many cities in America and a dozen locations overseas have been coming into Armco headquarters at Middletown and relayed to the Armco Drainage & Metal Products, Inc., plant here.

The White House announced that in the future Stassen no longer would report directly to the President but to Dulles, who would keep Eisenhower advised regarding any disarmament developments. Dulles said in explanation that he and Eisenhower had agreed the situation in that field had reached a point where the State Department should have policy supervision.

There was no indication at that time that Stassen would never again deal directly with Eisenhower on disarmament. Rather, there were indications that if such dealings took place they likely would reflect important developments.

Hagerly said that because the London negotiations are continuing, Stassen will hold no "full-fledged" news conference here after his session with Eisenhower but will meet with newsmen "to say what he can."

The President, who arrived in August Thursday and plans to remain at least through this week, spent a quiet Easter with Mrs. Eisenhower and their house guests, Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. George M. Humphrey.

2 Drunk Drivers Fined in Court

Six Others Face
Traffic Charges

Two men were fined for driving while intoxicated, six others for other traffic offenses and three for intoxication by Judge Max G. Dice in a busy Monday morning at Municipal Court.

One man was also found not guilty of leaving the scene of an accident.

Pleading guilty to driving while intoxicated were Theodore A. Bartuff, 41, of near Washington C. H., and Don Arthur Matson, 22, of 414 Earl Ave. Both were fined $200 and costs, had their driving rights suspended for one year and were sentenced to 10 days in jail, seven suspended.

Found not guilty of leaving the scene of an accident was Wayne Bott, 20, of Mt. Sterling, originally arrested on a warrant sworn out by Harold Blanton, 23, of near New Holland. Warrants sworn out by Blanton against Bott for assault and for reckless driving were withdrawn.

The warrants grew out of an auto accident in the northern part of the county last week.

FINED $50 and costs and sentenced to two days in jail after he pleaded guilty to driving after his license had been revoked was Rome N. Poole, 23, of near Greenfield. His father, Joseph Poole, 50, also of near Greenfield, forfeited $25 bond on a charge of permitting an unlicensed driver to drive.

Pleading guilty to charges of failure to stop at a red light were Mabelle D. Allen, 47, of Bloomingburg, N. Y., and Nelson Eugene Whaley, 20, of near Washington C. H. Both were fined $5 and costs, the fines suspended.

Charles McKinney, 26, of Washington C. H., was fined $5 and costs after he pleaded guilty to driving without an operator's license.

Pleading guilty to crossing a yellow line was McKay Burton, 33, of Columbus. He was fined $10 and costs, the fines suspended.

Forfeiting bond for failure to appear on various charges were: George R. Moore, 40, of Meriden, Conn., failure to yield the right of way, $15;

Ralph Eugene Coit, 24, of 214 N. Main St., failure to stop at a red light, $15.

He seemed surprised that anyone should think it strange the government still planned to exchange diplomats with Moscow. It had been generally believed Nabulsi's approaches to the Soviet Union were one of the reasons for his dismissal.

Both Nabulsi and Premier Khalidi said the Jordan government had invited President Eisenhower's special envoy James P. Richardson.

Founder's Day Observed

Scout Camp Improved And Park Building Put Up by Armco Employees

The Boys Scouts here now have two outdoor fireplaces, two picnic tables and two outdoor toilets at their own Camp Glenn M. Pine on the Flakes Ford Rd. and there is a new Steelox building at the park on Oakland and Millikan Aves. here for storage of equipment—all employees of the Armco Steel Corp. all over the world observe April 22 each year as Founder's Day with good deeds for others.

This year's two projects were started more than two weeks ago, but because of interference by the weather the finishing touches were not put on until Founder's Day.

The Camp Pine project, which took more money and more hard work, involved not only the construction of the fireplaces, picnic tables and toilets, but also the clean-up of the 27-acre tract between the road and Sugar Creek.

Underbrush had to be grubbed out, dead trees cut and some trees topped. An old fence was torn out and the winter's accumulation of fallen branches and dead weeds was piled up and burned.

It took long hours of back-tiring labor, but now the scouts have a neat and clean place to go for their outdoor meetings and camps—all they have to do now is keep it that way.

The city bought the Steelox building—which was made at the Armco Drainage and Metal Products, Inc., plant here—and volunteers from the plant put it up at the park during their Good Friday holiday before and after the union service at the First Presbyterian Church.

This unusual observance of Founder's Day is carried on by Armco employees on their own time, with their own money and under the direction of their own selected fellow workers.

ALL OF the 230 employees of the Armco plant here took part in the projects, either with contributions of money or work—usually with both.

They also sent a check to one of their fellow workers who has been off the job for six months and probably will not be back for another six because of injuries received in a non-occupational accident.

Committee for this year's observance was made up of Harold Foraker, Frank Terrell, Cecil Cutlip, John Stewart, Robert Ernest, Eugene Brill, Mrs. Lauretta Vincent and Paul Souther, the chairman.

Contributions by employees for the expenses and the check amounted to $458.

The work this year was carried out in shifts. There were times when as many as 30 were working at Camp Pine.

IN THE seven years Founder's Day has been observed by Armco employees here:

In 1951 a commercial-type toaster was given to the Children's Home.

In 1952 new linoleum was bought and laid, lockers were built in, and some painting was done at the Children's Home before a party was given for the youngsters there.

In 1953 a stainless drainboard

ards last February to come to Amman to explain the Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East.

Nabulsi said no further invitation was necessary. American officials, however, have taken the line that a definite bid has not been extended and Richards still is awaiting a proper invitation.

Nabulsi said Jordan would reject any conditions attached to any U. S. aid, whether under the Eisenhower Doctrine or otherwise. As to Eisenhower's suggestion that the Arabs band together to resist Communist encroachment, the foreign minister said:

"We are against communism because it is against Arab nationalism. If I fight communism, I do so for the sake of Arabs, not for the sake of the United States or any other country."

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

County Auditor Harry Allen and his staff have had a front seat for the trials and tribulations of a dove nesting in the fork of a limb in a tree some 30 feet from the west window of the auditor's office.

They saw the dove building its rather meager nest of small twigs, and sticking to her job of hatching the eggs, even when she was nearly covered with snow.

Recently they discovered that the nest was partly torn out and the eggs missing. I saw an egg shell on the ground under the tree, and to me that told the story of what had happened.

A bluejay apparently had discovered the nest while the dove was absent from the two eggs for a short time, and ate the eggs—a thing characteristic of that blue marauder.

The doves apparently decided to build another nest elsewhere and start all over again, so they abandoned their first nest, or what was left of it.

FARM GATES CHANGE

Types of farm gates have changed like everything else, although for a long time the main type has continued in use.

First "gates" were poles arranged so they could be easily removed, or turned aside, like the old toll gate poles.

These old pole gates and one which followed closely, — light split rail gates — were known as "bars" and the bars were arranged so they would slide back through openings in posts or between posts, sufficient to permit letting one end down for pedestrians or horsemen, or removing the bars entirely to permit full use of the gateway.

"Letting down the bars," which originated with the bar gates, is still a common expression to indicate removal of barriers. The wooden hinge gates were close followers of the "bar."

Then came the gate that was wired to a post, and it was necessary to lift most of the gate every time it was opened or closed.

Also the wooden board gates which were arranged so they could be pushed back and then opened and closed without lifting most of the gate. They fastened with a sliding latch.

The well-braced slat gates, with iron hinges, have long been among the standard types of gates.

As early as 50 years ago a new type of gate was patented. It was operated from a vehicle which halted at the gate while the driver reached out, seized a handle suspended from a long wooden arm, and when the arm or lever was pulled down, the gate was opened and swung back.

After passing through the driver pulled a similar handle on the other side and closed the gate.

The first one of these handy modern gates was installed in northern Fayette County by J. M. Klever at the end of a lane leading back to his house, on Route 38, near historic "Cherry Hill." It was used for 30 years or more.

A similar gate was in use on the Campbell farm, on Route 70, south, for a great many years. The number of these gates in the county was probably less than a score.

Now the "cattle guard gates," consisting of wooden or metal rails across the gateway, are used by several farmers in the county.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Highlighting the first world war news 40 years ago this week was the great battle between the Germans and the British and French on the "Western Front," in France with masses of Germans slaughtered by "curtains of fire" laid down by the British, who were advancing slowly in the face of bitter counter attacks. Germany was rushing great numbers of reinforcements to the scene. Two German destroyers were sunk off the coast of Dover.

Washington Combination Sales Co. conducted its spring horse sale at the Sales Pavilion, with John Pease as auctioneer. Highest price of any horse was $515.

Rail Watchman Killed by Auto

SANDUSKY — A railroad crossing watchman was killed and a brakeman injured early Saturday by an automobile which careened across the tracks on Ohio 101.

Kenneth F. Hemmer, 26, father of two children, was the watchman. He was struck down as he waved a light for the passage of a string of coal cars.

Samuel Kiser, 45, a brakeman standing near the crossing, was taken to Providence Hospital with serious injuries after being hit as the car went out of control.

The driver, Patrick J. McMonigal, 20, was charged with second degree manslaughter and will be given a hearing next Friday. He and two passengers in his car were treated for minor injuries.

Columbus Man Dies in Creek

CHILLICOTHE — Authorities continued searching today for the body of William Coffey, 29, of Columbus, believed to have drowned in Paint Creek, about five miles west of here.

Dwight and Ronnie Bayless, Coffey's brothers-in-law, and Gary Jenkins, a friend, all of Chillicothe, said they were walking near the creek Sunday when Coffey decided to go swimming.

He dove in, they said, splashed around a few moments, and then went under. The three said they searched for Coffey, but when they couldn't find him after a few minutes, they called authorities.

In 1956 the world's civilian airlines carried 78 million passengers, for an average distance of 575 miles each.

Salt Water Baths Appear Doomed

SAN FRANCISCO — A favorite tranquilizer among San Francisco businessmen since 1894 — salt water bathing in downtown club pools—appears doomed.

Since the Gay 90s the Ocean Salt Water Co. has piped water nearly seven miles from the Pacific to supply swimming pools at the Olympic Press, Union League and the Elks clubs.

Now, says J. Eugene McAtter, president of the company and of the parent Olympic Club, the system would have to spend around $500,000 to repair corroded pipes and reservoirs.

Home Garden Industry Set

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — With Easter past the four billion dollar home gardening industry digs in today in earnest in millions of backyards and vacant lots.

Already millions of seed catalogues have pulled in the bedazzled. Two million tons of soil conditioners are on hand or in the ground.

Spending on lawns and gardens, the salesmen say, has increased ten fold since World War II and they predict retail sales this year will top four billion dollars.

This figure covers sales of plants, seeds and bulbs, garden tools and equipment, lawn mowers, hoses and sprayers, plant boxes, top soil, fertilizers soil builders and soil chemicals, insecticides and fungicides.

Business joins homeowners in creating this lucrative market. Thomas I. Jaeger, president of the Glorion Soil Builder division of Aluminum & Chemicals Corp., Greenwich, Conn., estimates factory landscaping now runs at 70 million dollars a year, while another 50 million is spent on plants and planters inside and out of new office buildings.

The garden supply industry in turn spends millions of dollars — for example, around 15 million a year on consumer advertising. And some 500 seed companies, doing a 50 million dollar annual business, send out an estimated 75 million spring and fall seed catalogues.

The National Garden Bureau says about 30 million Americans bought flower seeds last year and about 15 million invested in vegetable seeds.

The American Seed Trade Assn. predicts 150 million pounds of grass seed will be sold this year, with 15 million of it for new lawns.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

County Auditor Harry Allen and his staff have had a front seat for the trials and tribulations of a dove nesting in the fork of a limb in a tree some 30 feet from the west window of the auditor's office.

They saw the dove building its rather meager nest of small twigs, and sticking to her job of hatching the eggs, even when she was nearly covered with snow.

Recently they discovered that the nest was partly torn out and the eggs missing. I saw an egg shell on the ground under the tree, and to me that told the story of what had happened.

A bluejay apparently had discovered the nest while the dove was absent from the two eggs for a short time, and ate the eggs—a thing characteristic of that blue marauder.

The doves apparently decided to build another nest elsewhere and start all over again, so they abandoned their first nest, or what was left of it.

FARM GATES CHANGE

Types of farm gates have changed like everything else, although for a long time the main type has continued in use.

First "gates" were poles arranged so they could be easily removed, or turned aside, like the old toll gate poles.

These old pole gates and one which followed closely, — light split rail gates— were known as "bars" and the bars were arranged so they would slide back through openings in posts or between posts, sufficient to permit letting one end down for pedestrians or horsemen, or removing the bars entirely to permit full use of the gateway.

"Letting down the bars," which originated with the bar gates, is still a common expression to indicate removal of barriers.

The wooden hinge gates were close followers of the "bar."

Then came the gate that was wired to a post, and it was necessary to lift most of the gate every time it was opened or closed.

Also the wooden board gates which were arranged so they could be pushed back and then opened and closed without lifting most of the gate. They fastened with a sliding latch.

The well-braced slat gates, with iron hinges, have long been among the standard types of gates.

As early as 50 years ago a new type of gate was patented. It was operated from a vehicle which halted at the gate while the driver reached out, seized a handle suspended from a long wooden arm, and when the arm or lever was pulled down, the gate was opened and swung back.

After passing through the driver pulled a similar handle on the other side and closed the gate.

The first one of these handy modern gates was installed in northern Fayette County by J. M. Kiever at the end of a lane leading back to his house, on Route 38, near historic "Cherry Hill." It was used for 30 years or more.

A similar gate was in use on the Campbell farm, on Route 70, south, for a great many years. The number of these gates in the county was probably less than a score.

Now the "cattle guard gates," consisting of wooden or metal rails across the gateway, are used by several farmers in the county.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Highlighting the first world war news 40 years ago this week was the great battle between the Germans and the British and French on the "Western Front," in France with masses of Germans slaughtered by "curtains of fire" laid down by the British, who were advancing slowly in the face of bitter counter attacks. Germany was rushing great numbers of reinforcements to the scene. Two German destroyers were sunk off the coast of Dover.

SANDUSKY — A railroad crossing watchman was killed and a brakeman injured early Saturday by an automobile which careened across the tracks on Ohio 101.

Kenneth F. Hemmer, 26, father of two children, was the watchman. He was struck down as he waved a light for the passage of a string of coal cars.

Samuel Kiser, 45, a brakeman standing near the crossing, was taken to Providence Hospital with serious injuries after being hit as the car went out of control.

The driver, Patrick J. McMonigal, 20, was charged with second degree manslaughter and will be given a hearing next Friday. He and two passengers in his car were treated for minor injuries.

COLUMBUS — Authorities continued searching today for the body of William Coffey, 29, of Columbus, believed to have drowned in Paint Creek, about five miles west of here.

Dwight and Ronnie Bayless, Coffey's brothers-in-law, and Gary Jenkins, a friend, all of Chillicothe, said they were walking near the creek Sunday when Coffey decided to go swimming.

He dove in, they said, splashed around a few moments, and then went under. The three said they searched for Coffey, but when they couldn't find him after a few minutes, they called authorities.

In 1956 the world's civilian airlines carried 78 million passengers, for an average distance of 575 miles each.

CLARK, 35-year-old horse owned by C. A. Cave, local insurance agent and real estate dealer died. He had been owned by Mr. Cave for 28 years and was long a familiar sight on the streets.

Paint Township voted a $35,000 bond issue for new school buildings at Yatesville and Bookwalter.

The Mrs. John Leach property, an old landmark at Pearsons, was destroyed by fire. It was a former store building on the old Grass-hopper Railroad.

D. L. Thompson purchased the Hardesty Flour Mill on Mount St. Columbus, and planned to operate it.

The Elks had raised $42,000 toward a new $60,000 home here.

Peter Staub, near Bloomingburg, sold six wheat crops, had been holding, for $1 more per bushel than he would have realized had he sold the crops each year. He got $2.50 per bushel, and two days after he sold, the price was $2.70 per bushel and still going up.

Mayor John Oster was looking for 40 or 50 acre farm near city, on which to employ vagrants and loafers during war period.

The Union Township Board of Education picked three sites for centralized school buildings in the township.

Washington Combination Sales Co. conducted its spring horse sale at the Sales Pavilion, with John Pease as auctioneer. Highest price of any horse was $515.

Salt Water Baths Appear Doomed

SAN FRANCISCO — A favorite tranquilizer among San Francisco businessmen since 1894 — salt water bathing in downtown club pools—appears doomed.

Since the Gay 90s the Ocean Salt Water Co. has piped water nearly seven miles from the Pacific to supply swimming pools at the Olympic, Press, Union League and the Elks clubs.

Now, says J. Eugene McAtter, president of the company and of the parent Olympic Club, the system would have to spend around $500,000 to repair corroded pipes and reservoirs.

Home Garden Industry Set
By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — With Easter past the four billion dollar home gardening industry digs in today in earnest in millions of backyards and vacant lots.

Already millions of seed catalogues have pulled in the bedazzled. Two million tons of soil conditioners are on hand or in the ground.

Spending on lawns and gardens, the salesmen say, has increased ten fold since World War II and they predict retail sales this year will top four billion dollars.

This figure covers sales of plants, seeds and bulbs, garden tools and equipment, lawn mowers, hoses and sprayers, plant boxes, top soil, fertilizers soil builders and soil chemicals, insecticides and fungicides.

Business joins homeowners in creating this lucrative market. Thomas I. Jaeger, president of the Glorion Soil Builder division of Aluminum & Chemicals Corp., Greenwich, Conn., estimates factory landscaping now runs at 70 million dollars a year, while another 50 million is spent on plants and planters inside and out of new office buildings.

The garden supply industry in turn spends millions of dollars — for example, around 15 million a year on consumer advertising. And some 500 seed companies, doing a 50 million dollar annual business, send out an estimated 75 million spring and fall seed catalogues.

The National Garden Bureau says about 30 million Americans bought flower seeds last year and about 15 million invested in vegetable seeds.

The American Seed Trade Assn. predicts 150 million pounds of grass seed will be sold this year, with 15 million of it for new lawns.

Biplane Retraces Old Mail Route

PITTSBURGH — A rebuilt biplane traveling at speeds up to 90 miles an hour Sunday re-traced the trip it made 30 years ago to inaugurate mail service between Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

The flight was started by Cliff Ford, a Pittsburgh aviation pioneer, who organized the first commercial airline here. Ball was present at take-off ceremonies. Ray Gross of Pittsburgh piloted the plane.

Credit Continues to Thrive in U. S.

Credit, that magic phenomenon which aids most Americans to live like kings compared to their grandparents, continues to thrive.

Installment buying, long-term mortgages and financing of most large material objects today are as common as they were scarce in grandpa's time.

Despite voices which may be heard raising the alarm over deficit spending by the consumer, there is little prospect of credit curtailment. This is in large part due to the self-feeding growth under which credit buying has prospered since the Second World War.

Long-term mortgages have become a basic foundation upon which credit purchasing is perpetuated. Because of low down payments on housing and long-term mortgages, which reduce monthly outlays, more families are buying their own homes than were able to do so in the past.

Because most new homes must be built in suburban areas, new homeowners find automobiles and certain other items previously regarded as luxuries by many are now necessities.

Therefore, they are investing in more automobiles, appliances and other labor-saving devices.

As the demand for more modern conveniences continues, productivity increases, incomes rise, more families are able to purchase homes, and the cycle begins its trip once more. The only problem seems to be in the supply of money needed to finance this credit binge.

In recent years this supply has diminished, often to the point of being overbalanced by the demand.

Unless the consumer can be encouraged to place more of his income in a savings plan, he may soon find installment buying has become costlier or even unavailable.

She Buys First Hat in 14 Years

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The Easter hat madness had an unusual victim this year—Blanche Thebom, the only girl in grand opera who can stand on her own hair without bending her knees.

"I feel like I had dived into a lily pond, and came up with a lily on my head," said the sprightly Metropolitan Opera star as she put on the first hat she had bought in 14 years.

The beautiful mezzo-soprano gave up hats about the time she started letting her hair grow long. Now it is over six feet in length and the singer, who is about 5 feet 7 inches tall, actually can let it down and step on it.

Miss Thebom, who usually gets along by sticking a flower or a jeweled ornament in her hair, bought a bonnet this season because she is going to England soon. It wouldn't do to bump unexpectedly into Queen Elizabeth with nothing but a vantage orchid in her tresses. No indeed.

Blanche isn't a girl who goes in for half-way measures. She descended on the hat shop operated by Mr. John, the noted chapeau designer, with the enthusiasm of a pirate raider.

Her enthusiasm was matched by that of Mr. John, weary at the moment of decorating girls who affect short bobs or even crew cuts.

"I also hate those tortured curls, those French-fried curls," he murmured. "A woman with long hair is a pleasant challenge."

"For a long-haired woman, the hat simply must be in proportion. Hat design, after all, is basically architecture, which after all is basically proportion."

Mr. John, whom Napoleon is said to resemble, tosses off bonnets like this all day long on a six-day week. Sunday he practices.

He came into the trying-on room with half a dozen colorful wide-brimmed hats. They bore such romantic titles as "visiting butterfly," "royal garden party," "meeting in mayfair," "brunch with a beefeater" and "tea with a total stranger."

Mr. John is indeed a veritable madoon whether working in prose or stain.

One hat which was two feet wide and named "windsor afternoon"—or was it "nightcap with a knight"?—caught Blanche's eye.

"This is a black palace portrait hat," murmured Mr. John, "made of layers of summer black taffeta with a black petticoat brim (sure, hats wear petticoats), caught with a single summer rose, also black."

Intoxicated either by Mr. John's haunting creations or his haunted descriptions, Miss Thebom wound up with about a dozen big-brimmed hats, including "fascination," "trooping of colors," and "spring in London."

"If you're going to wear a hat," said Blanche stoutly, "you might as well wear a mad one, so that a man can look at it condescendingly."

"That's one of the reasons for wearing a hat—to give a man something to feel smug and superior about."

Spring--the Season of Promises

By George Sokolsky

The pessimist has, from ancient times, found some reason to believe that the world would come to an end and that man would disappear. Even dates were set and human beings approached these dates in a passion of fear.

But the world has not yet come to an end and man proliferates until he is almost as numerous as the sands of the desert. Neither wars nor plagues nor hunger nor thirst reduce the total population of man.

Cannibalistically, man has devised many means for killing other men. From time beyond history, it is clear that murder has been a human preoccupation.

Nevertheless, the human population of the earth has constantly increased until now it has reached the phenomenal estimate of 2,500,000, and it may even be a much higher figure as those countries which are most populated often do not take accurate censuses.

War is an expression not only of cannibalism glorified by political phrases and moral intentions, but it is probably the only means by which the weak and small and backward nations emerge to independence.

The development of instruments of destruction has not been greater than man's search for God and truth and for a proximity to life in accordance with God's moral law. Often it is the reaction to war and to hard times that stimulates and accelerates this search.

And this is remarkable because wherever one looks, in whatever stage of human development, this search, however primitive or sophisticated, makes itself evident.

And so often, it is in the spring of the year when life renews itself, when the evidence is so clear that nothing dies, that there is a resurrection and a rebirth, that the human mind has historically turned to thoughts of an eternal life, to a world without end.

Man refuses to be a thing, a statistical entity, something to be counted and measured. His intelligence and personality assert themselves. The Cro-Magnon man painted a picture on walls of his cave and spoke, in those lines, to centuries far beyond his imaginings.

But what that hairy man said was he possessed a mind, that he was trying to understand his world and that he could convey ideas. The more we dig into the past, the farther we go, the more sure we are of this ambition of man to understand and to be understood.

In all the intricacies and convulsions of human thought and emotion, there is only this to be said at any time, for to know one's world is to be forced to recognize that it is held together and functions in an orderly manner because a divine intelligence, against all the abuses of the will of men, opens the flood-gates of truth before which we stand in awe.

This is the story of Passover, of Easter, of Ramadan. It is the story of man's emergence from savagery, from worshipping sticks and stones and dragons and serpents. It is the story of the search for human freedom, for the dignity of each individual.

There are those who believe that man has failed in his search for a better life for himself—better, not in the material sense of wealthier, but in the spiritual sense of richer, deeper, more profound, closer to our concepts of perfection.

We have not failed. Our achievements have been enormous, but not sufficient to attain our goals. Both Passover and Easter hold the ideal of the eternal life.

Passover in the sense that even those consumed by slavery can find a new life in the hardships of liberty; Easter in the concept of the resurrection, the belief that life is eternal, that there is not waste, no surplus, no useless human beings; that even after what we call death, there will be life.

It is the sure belief in the eternal life that has lifted man from being a clod to the noble heights to which his mind, if not his body, can aspire.

Baby Not Fully Born Until Four Weeks Old

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
It has been said that, in a sense, a baby is not fully born until he is about four weeks old.

About the only sound he can make during the first month of life is to cry. Along about the end of this period, he begins to make low throaty noises.

Because portions of his system are not yet organized completely he'll wake fitfully, sneeze and choke occasionally.

Sudden Noises

Sudden noises will startle him. Upon hearing them he may cry, his body may become rigid and he may move his arms outward with fingers outstretched and clutching.

Yet, this is entirely a reflex action. A tot of this tender age doesn't reach with his hands. Rather, he reaches with his eyes.

The most active and adept muscles he has at this stage of life are the 12 tiny muscles of his eyes.

This doesn't mean that he can see in any real sense. A newborn baby is almost blind. An infant has only 20-2,000 vision.

This means he can see at a distance of 20 feet what a person with normal, fully developed eyesight can see at 2,000 feet.

Even if he could read, an infant would not be able to recognize a letter on the nearby wall unless it was 2 1/2 feet tall.

Gradually, a baby's vision becomes better and better. By the time he is one year old, he has 20-150 vision. At the age of two he has progressed to 20-40, still short of the 20-20 standard.

Spots Not Teeth

Only rarely are babies born with teeth. Some mothers mistakenly identify little white pearl-like spots which appear on the gums as teeth.

These spots are simply small hard collections of cells that will cause no harm and will disappear naturally in time.

An infant has a lot of developing to do during his early life.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mrs. S.S.: Is liquor injurious to a person who has hardening of the arteries?

Answer: Whether or not alcoholic beverages should be used by a person with hardening of the arteries could only be determined by the physician who, after making a careful examination, will decide whether their use might be harmful.

Credit Continues to Thrive in U. S.

Credit, that magic phenomenon which aids most Americans to live like kings compared to their grandparents, continues to thrive.

Installment buying, long-term mortgages and financing of most large material objects today are as common as they were scarce in grandpa's time.

Despite voices which may be heard raising the alarm over deficit spending by the consumer, there is little prospect of credit curtailment. This is in large part due to the self-feeding growth under which credit buying has prospered since the Second World War.

Long-term mortgages have become a basic foundation upon which credit purchasing is perpetuated. Because of low down payments on housing and long-term mortgages, which reduce monthly outlays, more families are buying their own homes than were able to do so in the past.

Because most new homes must be built in suburban areas, new homeowners find automobiles and certain other items previously regarded as luxuries by many are now necessities.

Therefore, they are investing in more automobiles, appliances and other labor-saving devices.

As the demand for more modern conveniences continues, productivity increases, incomes rise, more families are able to purchase homes, and the cycle begins its trip once more. The only problem seems to be in the supply of money needed to finance this credit binge.

In recent years this supply has diminished, often to the point of being overbalanced by the demand.

Unless the consumer can be encouraged to place more of his income in a savings plan, he may soon find installment buying has become costlier or even unavailable.

Assets of Cincy Firm To Be Sold

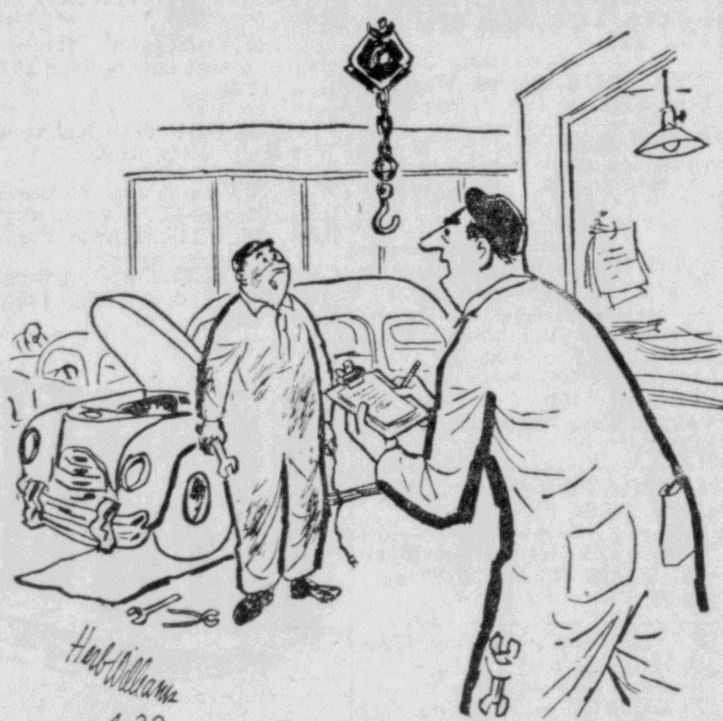

CINCINNATI (AP)—The assets of the Ohio Dress and Coat Co. of Cincinnati must be sold to the Ohio Garment Co., a new corporation with some of the old Ohio dress firm's officers.

That's the ruling of U.S. District Judge John H. Druffel. The new corporation offered $25,476 for the firm's apparel, goodwill and trademarks, and $5,233 for all office furniture and other equipment. Ohio Dress and Coat Co. and Schaeffer Garment Co. went into receivership April 1 after creditors claimed they were owed $316,740, and the two firms—with intermingled business affairs—were "hopelessly insolvent."

Jury Rules Slaying To be only Assault

JACKSON (AP)—A jury of seven women and five men has found Bill Hughes, 55, of Oak Hill, guilty of simple assault and battery in the shotgun slaying of a neighbor, 40-year-old Clyde Bowling. Hughes had been accused of second degree murder in the Jan. 22 shooting. The trial lasted a week and the jury deliberated 3½ hours. Hughes' wife and son were among the nine defense witnesses. Hughes claimed self-defense.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Would you please discuss problems that occur in the first year of marriage and how to cope with them? Especially the trait of possessiveness.

When two people are in love, is it natural to be possessive, one of the other, during the first year? And will it change afterward?

When this possessiveness develops into feelings of jealousy, for no valid reasons, when other people are around, how do you conquer it?

DEAR B. B.: Whose jealousy are you talking about, yours or your partner's? It is one thing to try to conquer your own jealousy, and another thing to try to heal that affliction in the partner. But in either case, some understanding of the nature of the ailment might be helpful.

Jealousy and possessiveness are sick-hearted, small-souled attempts to enforce "exclusive usage" rights to another's whole being — insofar as his emotional, intellectual and social aliveness are concerned.

The "jealous lover" pursues this objective in greedy, selfish, suspicious terms that seek to deny his victim any opportunities for a real partnership of mind or heart with any individuals except the jealous dictator.

A sense of belonging, rather than a feeling of possessiveness, marks healthy real love in married life. When a feeling of ownership begins to curdle into jealousy of the mate, in group situations, you should explore the phenomenon with a spiritual adviser or psychiatric counselor.

Baseball Teams Here Get Ready For League Play

Weekend Practices Give Managers Line on Prospects

With the opening of the baseball season only two weeks away, the four Fayette County teams preparing for organized league play this year are beginning to take form.

The Athletics, who will represent Washington C. H. in the Heart of Ohio League this season for the first time, appear to be getting pretty well set with one infield and out outfield position still question marks.

That does not mean, however, that the other places are exactly cinched, but Manager Bob Hildreth admitted he is not worrying about them, at least for the time being. After practices both Saturday and Sunday afternoons at the park on Oakland Ave., the prospects were for Kenny Robinett and Bucky Dumford to share the chores at first base on the pitcher's mound; WHS Coach Herb Russell to take second base and Dale Coppelock at third base.

Don Anderson, who played a lot of basketball for Bloomingburg High School, and Charles Dawes, one of the four baseball players in Dawes brothers, looked good in the outfield.

TO FILL SOME of the gaps there were Jack Rettig, Lindy Sharrett, Billy Herman (still in school) and several others. Alex Wackman was a likely prospect for the pitching staff, too.

Twelve players have been signed to play with the Athletics. That leaves four to bring the squad up to the league maximum.

Carl Gulick, a veteran infielder, was at the Sunday practice and indicated that he and his brother, Harold Gulick, were interested in joining the team. Harold is a catcher. Both are good hitters. They live near Commercial Point.

Up to now, it looks like Hildreth would be a playing manager, taking his place behind the bat, at least part of the time.

THE R. & S. OUTFIT that will represent Washington C. H. in the South Western Ohio (SWO) League this year is counting heavily on boys still in college. Tommy Smalley, the manager, admitted after Sunday afternoon's practice on the National Cash Register Co. lot out S. Fayette St.

Smalley said the team's biggest need is pitchers and added that "there are not many in sight right now."

Howard (Red) Boggs is back and one of the most valuable players on the roster because, as Smalley pointed out, "he's a hustler and can play any place in the infield." He probably will wind up at shortstop or second base.

Roger Mickle looked so good Sunday that Smalley said he undoubtedly will play some place in the infield. Paul Jones, described as a "good glove man," also appears to have another infield spot cinched.

With Marion Stockwell and Charles Rockhold virtually certain starters in the outfield, there is only one place left to worry about.

SMALLEY HAS set up a two-week practice schedule—Tuesday and Thursday evenings—at the NCR lot.

The opener will be played at the park on Oakland Ave. with the Milledgeville team May 5, while the Athletics are opening their Heart of Ohio season away from home.

Smalley has tabbed the Milledgeville outfit as "the team to beat" for the SWO title.

The Milledgeville players played a practice game with the Chillicothe Businessmen, another SWO team, Sunday and reports that they looked good were unanimous.

Progress of the team that is being put together to represent Bloomingburg in the SWO is still a bit hazy because of the late start. However, Smalley's comment that "they should have a good team...there are a lot of good ball players around there," is significant.

Sunday Produces Rare Reading for Baseball History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When baseball historians grope through the records of Sunday, April 21, 1957, at some distant date, they'll mark it down as the day that:

1. A "day" doubleheader at Washington was called because of power failure.

2. Don Newcombe tied a record by throwing home run balls to three successive Pittsburgh batters.

3. Don Hoak, a Cincinnati base runner, "fielded" a grounder between second and third and tossed it to Johnny Logan, Milwaukee shortstop, thus, in effect, retiring himself.

4. Jim Wilson pitched 6 2-3 perfect innings for the Chicago White Sox and didn't allow a Kansas City hit until there was one out in the ninth.

All in all, Easter Sunday was a day to be remembered if for no other reason than that the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers finally lost a game.

After one week of play, the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago White Sox are the only unbeaten teams and the Cincinnati Redlegs are the only nonwinners.

Pittsburghers Win Relays At Mansfield

MANSFIELD — Pittsburgh Central Catholic is this year's winner of the class Mansfield High School Relays, America's largest interscholastic field and track meet.

Central's Vikings put together 22 points, nudging by Mount Lebanon, Pa., by five twelfths of a point to become the second out-of-state school to capture the crown in the relay's 26-year-old history. Pontiac, Mich., won last year but ended up with only 10 points this time.

Central won the four-mile relay and the 880-yard run and scored in five other events. The Vikings took second place in the mile relay, a third spot in the medley relay event, and places in the mile relay, the 880-yard relay and the 100-yard dash.

Two records were established. Willie Prewett, a junior from Willow Run, Mich., leaped 24 feet 3 3/4 inches in the long jump to shatter the record of 23 feet 3 inches set by Olympic ace Jesse Owens when he ran for Cleveland East Tech in 1933.

In the other record setter, Val Jekkals, Cuyahoga Falls, tossed the shot put 56 feet 2 3/4 inches, erasing the old record of 54 7/8 feet by Bob Reubin of Olmstead Falls last year.

In all, 114 schools from Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia and 1,336 athletes competed in the relays.

CHICAGO — The Cleveland Indians will face the best pitchers on the Chicago White Sox staff in a two-game series opening here today. Al Lopez, White Sox manager, has elected left handers Billy Pierce and Jack Harshman to face the Tribe's Herb Score and Bob Lemon.

Score and Pierce, with identical records of 20-9 last year, opposed each other on opening day in Cleveland. The White Sox outlasted the Indians, 3-2, in 11 innings.

Harshman, winner of 15 games last season, and Pierce are not expected to make things any easier for the Indians' hitters, who have been unable to put together a consistent attack so far.

Against the Detroit Tigers Thursday in Detroit, the Tribe rapped five Bengal pitchers for 11 hits to get its only win of the season.

Roger Maris, rookie outfielder, is the only Indian to hit with any regularity, connecting in all four games thus far. In 16 times at bat he has collected six hits, including two home runs.

In Detroit Sunday the Indians got only six hits in 12 innings and ended up losing 3-2.

Mike Garcia started for the Tribe and kept the Tigers under control until the sixth inning. A two-run homer by Maris in the third inning gave the Bear an early lead. But in the sixth inning, three singles and a sacrifice sent Garcia to the showers.

Telegram Fails To Unnerve Pitcher

ST. LOUIS — "Phone home immediately. Mother desperately ill. Dad."

That's what Don Kaiser read in a telegram he received from Brooklyn shortly before he took the mound Sunday against the St. Louis Cardinals.

If it was sent to unnerve the young righthander of the Chicago Cubs it didn't. He pitched eight innings of solid baseball before he gave way to a reliever. Kaiser's mother died last year.

Defendis Favored To Trip Canadian

NEW YORK — Angelo Defendis, one of the top prospects in the light heavyweight division, is a 2-1 favorite to whip Yvon Durelle, Canadian 175-pound champion, and run his winning streak to seven here tonight.

The brawny, armed, Brooklyn puncher has compiled an 18-2 record, including 10 knockouts. His big punch gives the 24-year-old Angelo the edge over the 27-year-old Canadian who boxes, he says, for "kicks."

Durelle, of Baie St. Ann, N. B., has a fleet of four fishing boats operating for him while he's boxing. He's been busy enough in the ring with a 37-15-2 record, including 16 kayos.

Rule Book Given Workout As Redlegs Lose to Braves

MILWAUKEE — The age old cry of the ballpark vendor, "you can't tell the players without a program," may be accompanied soon at County Stadium by:

"You can't tell what's going on without a rule book."

And, maybe not even the rule book would help, especially when the Cincinnati Redlegs are opposing the Milwaukee Braves.

The rule book received a thorough going over Sunday when, to the surprise of practically every one but himself, Don Hoak of the Reds fielded a batted ball while running the bases in the first inning.

He scooped up a grounder by teammate Wally Post between second and third just as clean as you please and flipped it back to Milwaukee shortstop Johnny Logan. Logan thought he could have fielded it just as well, and perhaps even have started a double play since Gus Bell was on first at the time.

Frank Secory, second base umpire, ruled Hoak automatically out under rule 7:08, which deals with a fair ball touching a runner in fair territory before it has touched or passed an infielder.

Frank Dascoli, senior umpire indicated afterwards that it was a judgment call.

Hoak's hoax set off lively discussions in the grandstand and the pressbox.

One writer suggested that rule 7:08, which says a runner is out when he intentionally hinders a fielder attempting to make a play on a batted ball, should have applied.

The difference is that if 7:08 is invoked, the batter is credited with a hit whereas if 7:08b is called, he does not get a hit.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Redlegs said he thought Hoak was guilty of interference. Fred Haney, manager of the Braves, said he didn't think so.

Hoak said he simply put up his hands to avoid being struck by the ball. Logan snorted at this, claiming it was deliberate on Hoak's part to break up "a double play for sure."

It was the second game in a row that a Cincinnati runner was called out for coming in contact with a batted ball. Johnny Temple, in another double-play situation Saturday, was struck by Bell's batted ball while running between first and second and ruled out. Bell getting a hit.

Littler Cops Big Money in Vegas Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — No one really thought Gene Littler had a ghost of a chance to win the $40,000 Tournament of Champions golf extravaganza for the third straight year.

Included in the nonbelievers was Littler himself, as he candidly admitted. But today he had the $10,000 first prize.

The 26-year-old professional from San Diego, Calif., led off with mild rounds of 73-73, took the lead in the third round with a 69 and Sunday his 70 for 285, three under par for 72 holes, hit the target.

Gene's conquest of the Desert Inn Country Club course, a 7,102-yard, par 36-36-72 test, was close in the final phases.

He started out just one stroke ahead of young Don January. During the afternoon, Dick Mayer was within one-shot range. Then Dow Finsterwald threw a challenge. So did Jimmy Demaret, and never far out of consideration were Ed Furgol, Cary Middlecoff or Bill Casper, Jr.

But one by one the threats faded and Littler sewed up matter with a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the 17th hole.

All in all, Easter Sunday was a day to be remembered if for no other reason than that the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers finally lost a game.

After one week of play, the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago White Sox are the only unbeaten teams and the Cincinnati Redlegs are the only nonwinners.

President Will Harridge has a problem on his hands after the second game at Washington was called because of power failure after five innings with Washington on top 2-1.

Since American League rules do not cover such a situation, Harridge will make a ruling after he gets the complete report from his umpires.

Baltimore won the first game 11-9, a wild affair that lasted 3 hours and 50 minutes and wasn't decided until the Orioles came up with two in the 10th inning. A total of 39 players, including 13 pitchers, saw action with George Zuberink getting the decision over Dick Hyde.

The Yanks lost their first game 5-4 to Boston when a wind-blown pop fly fell for a single between pitcher Bob Grim and the first base line with catcher Yogi Berra in pursuit. Gene Mauch dashed home from second while Sam White's fly was falling for a game-winning single, giving Dave Sisler the verdict. Bill Skowron hit two homers.

Wilson retired the first 20 Kansas City batters. He finally walked Gus Zernial in the seventh. Hector Lopez broke his no-hitter with a single in the ninth and Harry Simpson also singled.

Tom Morgan, who matched Wilson's three-hitter, gave up the only run of the 1-0 game in the 10th on Sherm Lollar's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded.

Jack Dittmer, playing his first game for Detroit since his trade by Milwaukee in late winter, came through with a bloop pinch single for a 3-2 edge over Cleveland. It gave Jim Bunning the victory over Cal McLish.

Newcombe delivered successive home runs to Frank Thomas, Paul Smith and Dick Groat of Pittsburgh in the third inning of the first game at Brooklyn, won by the Pirates 6-3. Vern Law, who left with a pulled muscle, Bob Purkey and Roy Face held the Dodgers to two hits. One was a three-run homer by Carl Farris in the ninth.

Brooklyn took the second 7-4, routing Ron Kline in the second as Don Zimmer and Junior Gilliam each collected three hits. Don Drysdale won it.

Hank Sauer beat the Phillies all by himself in the first game with a homer and a ninth-inning single that gave New York's Johnny Antonelli a 2-1 edge over Robin Roberts. In the second game, the Phils knocked out rookie Curt Barclay before he could retire a man and continued for an 8-5 triumph despite homers by Whitey Lockman and Willie Mays off winner Jack Sanford.

Del Crandall drove in two big runs with a single in Milwaukee's 3-1 victory over Cincinnati. Warren Spahn took his second straight at the expense of Johnny Klippstein.

Two records were established. Willie Prewett, a junior from Willow Run, Mich., leaped 24 feet 3 3/4 inches in the broad jump to shatter the record of 23 feet 3 inches set by Olympic ace Jesse Owens when he ran for Cleveland East Tech in 1933.

In the other record setter, Val Jekkals, Cuyahoga Falls, tossed the shot put 56 feet 2 3/4 inches, erasing the old record of 54-7 1/2 set by Bob Reublin of Olmstead Falls last year.

In all, 114 schools from Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia and 1,336 athletes competed in the relays.

Central's Vikings put together 22 points, nudging by Mount Lebanon, Pa., by five twelfths of a point to become the second out-of-state school to capture the crown in the relay's 26-year-old history. Pontiac, Mich., won last year but ended up with only 10 points this time.

Littler Cops Big Money in Vegas Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—No one really thought Gene Littler had a ghost of a chance to win the $40,000 Tournament of Champions golf extravaganza for the third straight year.

Included in the nonbelievers was Littler himself, as he candidly admitted. But today he had the $10,000 first prize.

The 26-year-old professional from San Diego, Calif., led off with mild rounds of 73-73, took the lead in the third round with a 69 and Sunday his 70 for 285, three under par for 72 holes, hit the target.

Gene's conquest of the Desert Inn Country Club course, a 7,102-yard, par 36-36-72 test, was close in the final phases.

He started out just one stroke ahead of young Don January. During the afternoon, Dick Mayer was within one-shot range. Then Dow Finsterwald threw a challenge. So did Jimmy Demaret, and never far out of consideration were Ed Furgol, Cary Middlecoff or Bill Casper, Jr.

But one by one the threats faded and Littler sewed up matter with a 10-foot putt for a birdie on the 17th hole.

American Cops Marathon Crown

BOSTON (AP)—America has returned from oblivion to importance in world marathon ratings on the durable legs of young John Kelley.

In a matter of two hours, 20 minutes and five seconds, Kelley produced a stirring effort in the Boston AA Marathon Saturday to hand one of the finest foreign fields ever assembled a resounding defeat.

Steel Demand Said 'Easier'

Mills Now Seeking Business in Field

CLEVELAND (AP) - Because of
"easier demand," the magazine
"Steel" said today, "steel companies are being spurred to go farther afield for business."

It added that "In doing this, they are absorbing part of the delivery charges to meet competition."

With operations averaging 90 per cent of rated capacity, steel production last week was "at the lowest rate since the steelworkers strike last summer," the trade publication reported. A week ago operations were averaging 90.5 per cent.

There has been a halt in the upstream in steel prices, which began last December, said "Steel."
Its price index on finished steel remained at $139.71 a net ton.

But in midyear another price increase will be made when steelworkers get an automatic pay boost, it said.

"Steel's" price composite on steelmaking scrap dropped $1.33 to $42.67 a gross ton, the lowest since July, 1955. The magazine attributed the trend to "expectations of lowered operations in the steel industry, arrival of good weather, and a strong reliance on blast furnaces for the metallic charges for open hearth steelmaking furnaces."

Cannon Report

CINCINNATI (AP) - A police drive to collect dangerous war souvenirs netted a flock of lethal devices, including hand grenades and shells up to 75-millimeter size.

But some of the souvenirs showed that owners took NO chances.

Police Lt. Lawrence McCarthy said, "One man brought in a two-inch cannon ball that must have been used in the Civil War."

The 12-member commission, appointed by Gov. C. William O'Neill
last month, hopes to complete a study and make recommendations to the governor by the end of the year.

Dr. Baker, president of Ohio
University, asked interested individuals and groups to express their opinions on the problems
"early in the study in order that all suggestions receive deepest consideration."

Dr. Baker said one of the chief problems is the anticipated increase in college enrollment. College population is expected to be three to four times the present figure by 1970, he said.

"Because this condition will mean a great deal personally to thousands upon thousands of persons, it is vitally important that we have a large cross section of opinion expressed on the problem now," Dr. Baker said.

Kim Stanley Returns for Video Drama

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) - After an absence of almost a year from television Kim Stanley returns tonight on "Studio One" to play the lead in "Traveling Lady," a TV adaptation of the play that raised her to stardom.

This drama is about an ordinary young woman who comes to a Texas town with her young daughter seeking reunion with her ex-convict husband.

"Traveling Lady" closed after 30 performances on Broadway in the fall of 1954. But the critics were so enthusiastic about Miss Stanley's performance that she was elevated to star billing two days after the opening.

"I'm glad to be back with television," she said, "for I love it.
There's an immediacy of feeling about live television drama that can't be achieved on the stage."

Miss Stanley, who is married to actor-director Curt Conway, has been absent from television for the birth of a third child.

Although she likes the medium, she has no immediate plans for another TV appearance. She simply has not found a script that appeals to her recently except for "Traveling Lady."

Public Asked To Aid Ohio Study Group

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) - Dr. John C.
Baker, chairman of the Ohio Commission for Education Beyond the High School, today asked the public to aid in drawing up a program to meet problems facing higher education in Ohio.

The 12-member commission, appointed by Gov. C. William O'Neill
last month, hopes to complete a study and make recommendations to the governor by the end of the year.

Dr. Baker, president of Ohio
University, asked interested individuals and groups to express their opinions on the problems
"early in the study in order that all suggestions receive deepest
consideration."

Dr. Baker said one of the chief problems is the anticipated increase in college enrollment. College population is expected to be

Clermont County Dogs Get Break

BATAVIA (P) — Stray dogs, supposed to be under quarantine in Clermont County, got a break.

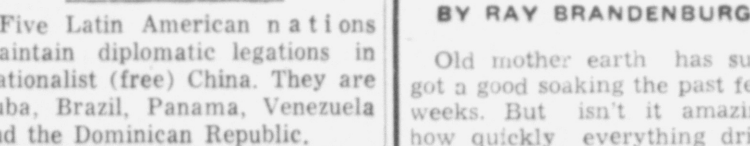

The dog catcher's truck broke down and he's out of business until a new truck can be bought.

Dog Catcher Elzie Flora of Felicity reported his truck had broken down en route here and that it apparently couldn't be repaired. He had to walk into Batavia.

The county commissioners agreed they'd have to buy a new truck before Flora can haul away any more stray dogs.

The difficulty, however, is that it will take several weeks to advertise for bids. What's more important, there won't be any money available until the next distribution of tax money in about six weeks.

Five Latin American nations maintain diplomatic legations in Nationalist (free) China. They are Cuba, Brazil, Panama, Venezuela and the Dominican Republic.

Random Comments

BY RAY BRANDENBURG

Old mother earth has sure got a good soaking the past few weeks. But isn't it amazing how quickly everything dries off when the sun comes out. The green grass, tree buds, the flowers all begin to peep out just to see what's going on.

When the thermometer got down to 28 degrees the other night, our Easter lilies looked like they had a hanger. But they straightened up and now look fine.

Wife and I really enjoyed the nice party put on by G. D. Baker & Sons, Fayette Limestone. (Alvin Armbrust and Bud Onstead) and Sugar Creek Stone Quarry and Armbrust Concrete and Metal Products (Willard Eldon and Norman Armbrust.) The food was excellent and the show was outstanding. Thanks all of you for a very pleasant evening.

The Easter Bonnets were very much in evidence Sunday. It's very gratifying to see our Churches filled to capacity. Not one but many, holding two services.

It was another example proving again that nearly everyone way deep down believe in the finer things of life. Our attendance at the Church of our choice is an outward indication, we are seeking more knowledge about God and religion.

Lets all go again next Sunday and the next and so on. You know a lot of preachers preach a good sermon and the only way to find out how good or bad they are is to attend Church.

Our clan all gathered in for Easter dinner. If you see me eating at the restaurant the next week or two, you'll know why.

Walking is fine exercise, but you don't get far. Why not come out and look at our sweet smooth and sassy Chevrolet. Pick out the model you like and go touring. All of us at Brandenburg's will do our best to please you.

Christian College Day Set for Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—Colleges and churches throughout the country will observe National Christian College Day on Sunday.

Arrangements have been made for special programs, radio and television broadcasts, sermons in thousands of churches.

The observance will point up the important role Christian higher education has played in American culture and civilization. At the same time, attention will be directed to the practical needs of the schools.

2 Cincy Papers Increase Prices

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Times-Star today increased the price of its paper from five to seven cents.

David S. Ingalls, president and publisher, said the increase was made necessary by increased production costs, including the price of newsprint and higher wages, taxes and distribution costs.

The Cincinnati Post, the other afternoon newspaper here, announced a similar increase in price last week.

Old mother earth has sure got a good soaking the past few weeks. But isn't it amazing how quickly everything dries off when the sun comes out.

The green grass, tree buds, the flowers all begin to peep out just to see what's going on.

When the thermometer got down to 28 degrees the other night, our Easter lilies looked like they had a hangover. But they straightened up and now look fine.

Wife and I really enjoyed the nice party put on by G. D. Baker & Sons, Fayette Limestone (Alvin Armbrust and Bud Ohnstead) and Sugar Creek Stone Quarry and Armbrust Concrete and Metal Products (Willard Eldon and Norman Armbrust.) The food was excellent and the show was outstanding. Thanks all of you for a very pleasant evening.

The Easter Bonnets were very much in evidence Sunday. It's very gratifying to see our Churches filled to capacity. Not one but many, holding two services.

It was another example proving again that nearly everyone way down below believe in the finer things of life. Our attendance at the Church, of our choice is an outward indication, we are seeking more knowledge about God and religion.

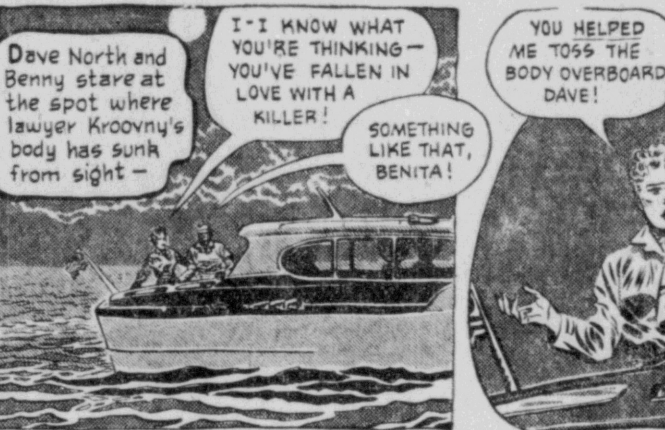

Lets all go again next Sunday and the next and so on. You know a lot of preachers preach a good sermon and the only way to find out how good or bad they are is to attend Church.

Our clan all gathered in for Easter dinner. If you see me eating at the restaurant the next week or two, you'll know why.

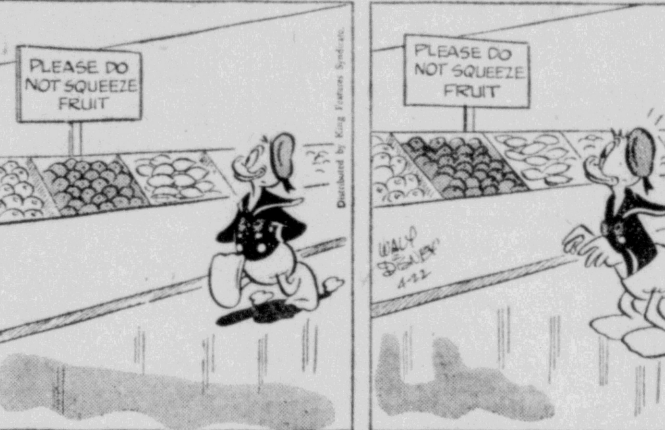

Walking is fine exercise, but you don't get far. Why not come out and look at our sweet smooth and sassy Chevrolets. Pick out the model you like and go touring. All of us at Brandenburg's will do our best to please you.

AP Chieftains Urged Reports From Red China

Directors Say U. S. State Department Errs In Correspondent Ban

NEW YORK (AP) — The directors of The Associated Press said today "qualified newsmen should be allowed to report first hand from the mainland of China."

Commenting on the State Department's refusal to permit U.S. newsmen to travel to Red China, the board told the annual meeting of members of The Associated Press, worldwide news cooperative:

"The most noticeable gap in our coverage, and one that has caused much controversy, is Communist China."

"We were invited by the Chinese, along with others, to send a reporter into the country. The United States Department of State refused permission and threatened serious sanctions."

"The Associated Press, disagreed with the government's action and the board at this time states again that it believes qualified newsmen should be allowed to report first hand from the mainland of China."

The directors observed that, despite the ban, the AP "did get first-hand reporting from China by commissioning a Canadian newspaperman (David Lancashire) to make a tour of the country."

Newsmen have protested that the travel ban infringed on the right of people in the United States to know, through their own reporters, about conditions in China. Secretary of State Dulles said recently that he and President Eisenhower have considered dropping the ban but have failed to find a formula for doing so.

In its annual report to the members today, the Board of Directors discussed news and photo coverage during the year and said The AP "again produced a superior news report."

The directors said, "We have continued to encounter problems on the domestic scene, as well as roadblocks abroad, in the day-by-day efforts to cut through varying kinds of restriction and censorship."

They said there has been some improvement in coverage. The AP is allowed to provide from Communist-dominated areas.

"Segregation-integration has been a major continuing domestic story," the board said. "This subject is highly charged with emotion and AP coverage undergoes unusually close scrutiny by editors in all parts of the country. While there naturally has been some criticism, most of it appeared unjustified."

Referring to coverage of the presidential campaign and election by the AP members and staff, the report said:

"The organization's reputation for impartial but hard-hitting reporting, and for fast, accurate counting of the returns was registered and enhanced."

Substantial expansion of AP operations during the year was reported.

"News and newsphoto services of The Associated Press showed increased participation in more than 70 countries outside the United States," the board said. "The greatest concentration of effort and expansion came in two vital areas — Asia-Africa and Latin America."

Former Dean Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — The dean emeritus of the business school at John Carroll University, Dr. Fritz W. Graff, 69, died Sunday at St. Luke's Hospital. He had suffered a stroke last Wednesday.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Whaley Rites

Services for Mrs. Charles O. Whaley, who died in the Williamson Nursing Home Thursday, were held in the Parrett Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Sunday by the Rev. Mrs. Pauline Hidy, pastor of the Christ Victory Church in Bloomington.

Two hymns, "I Won't Have To Cross Jordan Alone" and "Face to Face" were sung by Mrs. Alice Butcher, Mrs. Ethel Porter, Miss Susie Welch and Mrs. Dorothy Thacker.

Pallbearers for the burial in the Good Hope Cemetery were Roger Orchard, Harold Bennett, Thomas Carson, Joseph Oyer, Wesley Whaley and Gilbert Harbaugh.

Cycle Club Holds Annual Egg Hunt

The Silver Rocket Motorcycle Club held its annual Easter Egg Hunt Sunday afternoon on the Mose Wilson and Charles Mitchell farms, Sugar Grove-Staunton Rds.

Approximately 50 riders, their wives and girl friends took part in the mounted hunt.

Top contestant for the day was Lynn Stone, Carolyn Rd. A total of 100 eggs, 20 of them with prize status had been hidden by Charles Milstead, road captain, and Paul Dresbaugh, assistant road captain. More than 100 spectators watched the mounted riders hunt the eggs.

Refreshments were served and a winner rosette was held after the program. Haynes Harley-Davidson Sales donated the prizes.

Family Hassle Yields 5 Deaths

CHURCH POINT, La. (AP) — A family disturbance erupted into a family shooting spree Sunday and brought death to an estranged couple, their 14-year-old daughter and two policemen.

State Police Trooper F. J. Comeaux said the shooting was touched off by an Easter visit of Raphael Daigle, 37-year-old carpenter, to his estranged wife, Rena, 35.

Mrs. Jaigle their daughter Nettie, Police Chief Wilbur Landry and Asst. Chief Burley Cormier were wounded fatally at Mrs. Daigle's home, Comeaux said. Daigle later turned his shotgun on himself and committed suicide.

Airliner Loses Chunk of Wing

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A twin-engine Frontier Airlines plane landed safely Sunday with about 10 feet of its left wing sheared off, raising the question of whether it actually could have scraped against the ground while in flight.

The DC3 was caught in a severe downdraft about 50 miles north of Phoenix, but pilot Dale Welling applied full throttle and pulled out after the plane plummeted an estimated 4,000 feet. He brought it in for a perfect landing after a jittery half hour aloft.

Strange Request Handed to Police

BALTIMORE (AP) — A man called police and demanded: "Send a plainclothesman to Baltimore Street and Franklin Avenue right away."

The officer jotted down the address and asked: "OK. What's the trouble up there?"

The reply: "I just don't like that corner."

5 Noncoms Facing Trial For Beating

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — An Army court-martial this week will try six noncommissioned officers on charges of beating a trainee who challenged any one of them to a fight, Ft. Carson officers said today.

Capt. Jack Vermuel, public information officer, said the recruit, Pvt. Daniel Chuebrich, 18, Chicago, was treated at the base hospital for cuts and bruises suffered in the fight Friday in a day room at the fort. He will be held at the hospital two more days.

Those to be tried, Vermuel said, are M. Sgt. Billy C. Short, first sergeant of Battery C, 60th Field Artillery Battalion; Sergeants Billy Fowler, Clinton, Tenn., and James E. Ramage, Seneca, S.C.; and James E. Harding, Murfreesboro, Tenn., Claude E. Owens and Robert G. Prker, specialists.

Vermuel gave this account: Chuebrich, a former amateur boxer, was ordered by the acting platoon sergeant into a pushup position as punishment for disregarding an instruction.

Chuebrich refused. The recruit was then taken before the battery commander, who ordered the matter dropped.

The entire company was lined up later in the afternoon, and Short asked the company whether Chuebrich should be punished. The vote was for punishment.

Chuebrich was taken to the barracks room before five of the non-commissioned officers.

Chuebrich challenged any one of them to a fight. Parker accepted the challenge. But when Chuebrich started winning the fight, the others joined in and "subdued" Chuebrich.

5 Big Cities See Strike by Express Aides

NEW YORK (AP) — The Railway Express Agency said today its drivers walked out on strike in five major cities at 12:01 a.m.

A spokesman at the agency's headquarters said Teamster Union pickets appeared promptly outside company offices in Philadelphia, Newark, N. J., Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago.

Drivers at Cleveland and San Francisco are also involved in the dispute, the spokesman said. But picketing was not reported there.

Drivers were also off the job at Paterson and Elizabeth, N. J.

The company said about 1,500 of its 3,000 drivers are involved. The walkout began when a 30-day "cooling off" period provided under the National Railway Labor Act ended at midnight.

The union refused to accept a presidential board's recommendation for a 26½ cents an hour pay boost over a three-year period. Company officials said present hourly wages of the drivers involved range from $1.96 to $2.21.

The company said that it "has been and is ready to accept the report and recommendations" of the presidential factfinding board.

The board's recommendation, the statement said, "was the same as that previously accepted by 90 per cent of our employees represented by other unions."

Cub Pack 229 Meeting To Be in Grace Church

Cub Pack 229 will meet at 7:30 P. M. Tuesday in Fellowship Hall of Grace Methodist Church instead of in the Farm Bureau auditorium, it was announced Monday.

Most of the Cubs in pack 229 come from the Cherry Hill district. The change in the meeting place, a den mother explained, was necessitated by a conflict in two meetings.

U. S. Traveler Sucked Out of Plane Window

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Iraqi officials combed through desert wastes today for the body of an American blown through the shattered window of a French airliner 18,000 feet above Iraq.

The American, identified by police as J. R. Nash of Memphis, Tenn., was en route from Tehran to Istanbul. The 31-year-old bachelor with a passion for travel was on the last leg of an aerial round-the-world trip when he disappeared Saturday night.

Air France officials in Istanbul gave this account:

The four-engine Constellation was about 5 miles north of Jir-kouk, northern Iraq, when the third window on the right side of the plane burst "with a loud explosion."

Nash, who was asleep in the seat next to the window, was sucked out.

The plane immediately filled with steam as frigid air from outside poured into the heated cabin.

When the air finally cleared, other passengers noticed that Nash was missing.

Friends in Memphis said Nash was an admirer of the late Richard Halliburton, noted traveler and author who disappeared at sea while trying to sail a Chinese junk from Hong Kong to San Francisco in 1939. Halliburton was a native of Memphis.

Fayette Grangers Oppose Licensing Farm Machinery

Fayette Grangers went on record as opposed to a bill in the state Legislature which would require licensing of all farm machinery and as in favor of another bill which would require underground storage of all gas.

Their positions on these two pieces of legislation were stated at a meeting in Grange Hall on W. Elm St. here.

Osman King, the master, was in charge of the meeting, which followed a covered dish supper for which the committee was Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiteside, Mrs. Carman Coil and Roy Coil.

Miss Lida Grace Wissler was welcomed into Fayette Grange as a transfer from the Clarksburg Grange.

The master announced that a youth leadership training course will be held in the near future and that Fayette Grangers will attend the Sugar Grove Methodist Church on Route 70 on Rural Life Sunday, May 26.

Howard Barney, who was named degree team captain, called for a practice by the team Tuesday night at Grange Hall here.

The program was opened with group singing of "Easter Parade." Mrs. Ruth Barney read an Easter article and Mrs. Doris Diffendal recited a poem, "Dogwood."

A contest called "What Am I" was won by Lorna Jo Reif and Charlotte Barney.

The program was closed with another Easter poem by Mrs. Walter Carman, the lecturer.

Mountain Missionary Speaker at Samantha

The Rev. Miss Lela McConnell, an ordained Methodist minister and director of the Kentucky Mountain Holiness Assn. in Breathitt County, will speak at the Friends Church in Samantha, 5 miles south of Leesburg on Route 62, at 8 p. m. Friday.

MISS LELA MCCONNELL

The Rev. Miss McConnell went to Breathitt County 30 years ago for missionary work in the Kentucky mountains. During that time a high school, Bible School of college level and three elementary schools have been established there. A staff of 127 now assist her in her evangelistic work.

She has written four books on her work in the Kentucky mountains. The Friday service is open to the public.

Toy Pug from Here 4th in Dog Show

My Cherub of Whispering Pines, champion pug dog owned by Mrs. Luvu W. Wilson of near Washington C. H., placed fourth among the toy breeds in the Central Ohio Kennel Club show in Columbus Sunday.

He also won best breed this year and last year.

First among the toy breeds was a Pekinese, second a Maltese and third a smooth coat, Chihuahua.

An English springer spaniel from Birmingham, Mich., took the best-of-show title over 751 entries in this 14th annual all-breed dog show and obedience trial sponsored by the club.

The obedience trial winner was a golden retriever from Indianapolis with a perfect score of 200, a rarity, show officials said.

The show was held in the Veterans Memorial auditorium.

My Cherub of Whispering Pines was entered by the Wilson Whispering Pines Kennels on Route 70 about a mile north of Washington C. H.

America Moves Cautiously On Relaxed Red China Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today the United States will move slowly and cautiously in carrying out its agreement to relax Allied controls on trade with Red China.

The State Department announced Saturday that the Eisenhower administration had agreed to negotiate with 14 Allied nations a reduction in the list of items embargoed for Red China.

At the same time it called for an increase in the Soviet bloc trade control list and a tightening up of control machinery.

The announcement emphasized that this country has no intention of modifying its own total embargo on all trade with the Chinese Communists.

The decision was made in response to long-time British and Japanese pressures. The issue has been a sore point in American relations with Britain and Japan.

Their demands for revision constituted one side of a squeeze in which President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have been caught for more than a year.

THE OTHER side consists of pressures in Congress to maintain the highest possible restrictions on all free world trade with the whole Communist bloc.

Eisenhower told a news conference two weeks ago the United States must recognize the dependence of Japan and Britain on international trade.

Last week the United States gave its answer in a note circulated to the embassies of 14 countries here. The countries which cooperate in the Allied trade control system are the North Atlantic Treaty allies — except Iceland — plus Japan. Their participation is voluntary and United States views on what they should or should not sell to the Communist bloc can only be made effective through negotiation with them.

The proposed revision of the control list for Russia and the embargo list for Red China will be subject to negotiation item by item, U.S. officials said.

Family Hassle Yields 5 Deaths

CHURCH POINT, La. (AP) — A family disturbance erupted into a wild shooting spree Sunday and brought death to an estranged couple, their 14-year-old daughter and two policemen.

State Police Trooper F. J. Comeaux said the shooting was touched off by an Easter visit of Raphael Daigle, 37-year-old carpenter, to his estranged wife, Rena, 35.

Mrs. Daigle's daughter Nettie, Police Chief Wilbur Landry and Asst. Chief Burley Cormier were wounded fatally at Mrs. Daigle's home, Comeaux said. Daigle later turned his shotgun on himself and committed suicide.

Airliner Loses Chunk of Wing

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A twin-engine Frontier Airlines plane landed safely Sunday with about 10 feet of its left wing sheared off, raising the question of whether it actually could have scraped against the ground while in flight.

The DC3 was caught in a severe downdraft about 50 miles north of Phoenix, but pilot Dale Welling applied full throttle and pulled out after the plane plummeted an estimated 4,000 feet. He brought it in for a perfect landing after a jittery half hour aloft.

Strange Request Handed to Police

BALTIMORE (AP) — A man called police and demanded: "Send a plainclothesman to Baltimore Street and Franklin-town Road right away."

The officer jotted down the address and asked:

"OK. What's the trouble up there?"
The reply:
"I just don't like that corner."

5 Noncoms Facing Trial For Beating

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — An Army court-martial this week will try six noncommissioned officers on charges of beating a trainee who challenged any one of them to a fight, Ft. Carson officers said today.

Capt. Jack Vermuel, public information officer, said the recruit, Pvt. Daniel Chuebrich, 18, Chicago, was treated at the base hospital for cuts and bruises suffered in the fight Friday in a day room at the fort. He will be held at the hospital two more days.

Those to be tried, Vermuel said, are M. Sgt. Billy C. Short, first sergeant of Battery C, 60th Field Artillery Battalion; Sergeants Billy Fowler, Clinton, Tenn., and James E. Ramage, Seneca, S.C.; and James E. Harding, Murfreesboro, Tenn., Claude E. Owens and Robert G. Parker, specialists.

Vermuel gave this account: Chuebrich, a former amateur boxer, was ordered by the acting platoon sergeant into a pushup position as punishment for disregarding an instruction.

Chuebrich refused. The recruit was then taken before the battery commander, who ordered the matter dropped.

The entire company was lined up later in the afternoon, and Short asked the company whether Chuebrich should be punished. The vote was for punishment.

Chuebrich was taken to the barracks room before five of the non-commissioned officers.

Chuebrich challenged any one of them to a fight. Parker accepted the challenge. But when Chuebrich started winning the fight, the others joined in and "subdued" Chuebrich.

5 Big Cities See Strike by Express Aides

NEW YORK (AP) — The Railway Express Agency said today its drivers walked out on strike in five major cities at 12:01 a. m.

A spokesman at the agency's headquarters said Teamster Union pickets appeared promptly outside company offices in Philadelphia, Newark, N. J., Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago.

Drivers at Cleveland and San Francisco are also involved in the dispute, the spokesman said. But picketing was not reported there.

Drivers were also off the job at Paterson and Elizabeth, N. J. The company said about 1,500 of its 3,000 drivers are involved. The walkout began when a 30-day "cooling off" period provided under the National Railway Labor Act ended at midnight.

The union refused to accept a presidential board's recommendation for a 26 1/2 cents an hour pay boost over a three-year period. Company officials said present hourly wages of the drivers involved range from $1.96 to $2.21.

The company said that it "has been and is ready to accept the report and recommendations" of the presidential factfinding board. The board's recommendation, the statement said, "was the same as that previously accepted by 90 per cent of our employees represented by other unions."

Cub Pack 229 Meeting To Be in Grace Church

Cub Pack 229 will meet at 7:30 P. M. Tuesday in Fellowship Hall of Grace Methodist Church instead of in the Farm Bureau auditorium, it was announced Monday.

Most of the Cubs in pack 229 come from the Cherry Hill district. The change in the meeting place, a den mother explained, was necessitated by a conflict in two meetings.

U. S. Traveler Sucked Out of Plane Window

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Iraqi officials combed through desert wastes today for the body of an American blown through the shattered window of a French airliner 18,000 feet above Iraq.

The American, identified by police as J. R. Nash of Memphis, Tenn., was en route from Tehran to Istanbul. The 31-year-old bachelor with a passion for travel was on the last leg of an aerial round-the-world trip when he disappeared Saturday night.

Air France officials in Istanbul gave this account:

The four-engine Constellation was about 5 miles north of Jirkouk, northern Iraq, when the third window on the right side of the plane burst "with a loud explosion."

Nash who was asleep in the seat next to the window, was sucked out.

The plane immediately filled with steam as frigid air from outside poured into the heated cabin.

When the air finally cleared, other passengers noticed that Nash was missing.

Friends in Memphis said Nash was an admirer of the late Richard Halliburton, noted traveler and author who disappeared at sea while trying to sail a Chinese junk from Hong Kong to San Francisco in 1939. Halliburton was a native of Memphis.

Fayette Grangers Oppose Licensing Farm Machinery

Fayette Grangers went on record as opposed to a bill in the state Legislature which would require licensing of all farm machinery and as in favor of another bill which would require underground storage of all gas.

Their positions on these two pieces of legislation were stated at a meeting in Grange Hall on W. Elm St. here.

Osman King, the master, was in charge of the meeting, which followed a covered dish supper for which the committee was Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiteside, Mrs. Carman Coil and Roy Coil.

Miss Lida Grace Wissler was welcomed into Fayette Grange as a transfer from the Clarksburg Grange.

The master announced that a youth leadership training course will be held in the near future and that Fayette Grangers will attend the Sugar Grove Methodist Church on Route 70 on Rural Life Sunday, May 26.

Howard Barney, who was named degree team captain, called for a practice by the team Tuesday night at Grange Hall here.

The program was opened with group singing of "Easter Parade." Mrs. Ruth Barney read an Easter article and Mrs. Doris Diffendal recited a poem, "Dogwood."

A contest called "What Am I" was won by Lorna Jo Reif and Charlotte Barney.

The program was closed with another Easter poem by Mrs. Walter Carman, the lecturer.

Mountain Missionary Speaker at Samantha

The Rev. Miss Lela McConnell, an ordained Methodist minister and director of the Kentucky Mountain Holiness Assn. in Breathitt County, will speak at the Friends Church in Samantha, 5 miles south of Leesburg on Route 62, at 8 p. m. Friday.

MISS LELE McCONNELL

The Rev. Miss McConnell went to Breathitt County 30 years ago for missionary work in the Kentucky mountains. During that time a high school, Bible School of college level and three elementary schools have been established there. A staff of 127 now assist her in her evangelistic work.

She has written four books on her work in the Kentucky mountains. The Friday service is open to the public.

Toy Pug from Here 4th in Dog Show

My Cherub of Whispering Pines, champion pug dog owned by Mrs. Luva W. Wilson of near Washington C. H., placed fourth among the toy breeds in the Central Ohio Kennel Club show in Columbus Sunday.

He also won best breed this year and last year.

First among the toy breeds was a Pekinese, second a Maltese and third a smooth coat, Chihuahua.

An English springer spaniel from Birmingham, Mich., took the best-of-show title over 751 entries in this 14th annual all-breed dog show and obedience trial sponsored by the club.

The obedience trial winner was a golden retriever from Indianapolis with a perfect score of 200, a rarity, show officials said.

The show was held in the Veterans Memorial auditorium.

My Cherub of Whispering Pines was entered by the Wilson Whispering Pines Kennels on Route 70 about a mile north of Washington C. H.

America Moves Cautiously On Relaxed Red China Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today the United States will move slowly and cautiously in carrying out its agreement to relax Allied controls on trade with Red China.

The State Department announced Saturday that the Eisenhower administration had agreed to negotiate with 14 Allied nations a reduction in the list of items embargoed for Red China.

At the same time it called for an increase in the Soviet bloc trade control list and a tightening up of control machinery.

The announcement emphasized that this country has no intention of modifying its own total embargo on all trade with the Chinese Communists.

The decision was made in response to long-time British and Japanese pressures. The issue has been a sore point in American relations with Britain and Japan.

Their demands for revision constituted one side of a squeeze in which President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have been caught for more than a year.

THE OTHER side consists of pressures in Congress to maintain the highest possible restrictions on all free world trade with the whole Communist bloc.

Eisenhower told a news conference two weeks ago the United States must recognize the dependence of Japan and Britain on international trade.

Last week the United States gave its answer in a not-circulated to the embassies of 14 countries here. The countries which cooperate in the Allied trade control system are the North Atlantic Treaty allies — except Iceland — plus Japan. Their participation is voluntary and United States views on what they should or should not sell to the Communist bloc can only be made effective through negotiation with them.

The proposed revision of the control list for Russia and the
